

The Targeted Assessment for Prevention (TAP) Strategy

The Philadelphia Department of Public Health (PDPH) is assisting facilities with implementing the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's TAP Strategy. This is an anonymous survey of your staff to identify gaps in infection prevention and control knowledge and understanding.

CAUTI • CDI • CLABSI

PDPH will set up the assessment tools, assist with survey administration, and provide you with a comprehensive feedback report, free of charge!

TARGET

TAP reports use data for action to identify facilities and units with the greatest burden of infections, targeting efforts to most efficiently reach prevention goals

PREVENT

The report sent back to you by PDPH will contain actionable tools and resources that allow you to customize interventions based on gaps

ASSESS

In collaboration with your facility, PDPH will use TAP Assessment tools to survey staff in order to help identify gaps in infection prevention and control knowledge and understanding.

To request a TAP Assessment in your facility, contact the Healthcare-Associated Infections and Antimicrobial Resistance Program at the Philadelphia Department of Public Health:
